WINTER 2016

PRESIDENT REPORT

DEL/JOHN ZANGARI - EDITORS

A belated Happy New Year 2016! Do you recall January and February 2015? It was extremely cold with lots of snow. So far in 2016, it has been overall mild. Last week, there was a robin was in my front yard and as I write this, we are experiencing a thunderstorm. What is yet to come?

The Thames and Windsor Retiree Christmas Luncheons were enjoyed by all who attended. The meals were superb! In Windsor, the talent of the students in the Music Theatre Performance and Entertainment Technology Programs was outstanding in the production of A St. Clair Christmas at the Chrysler Theatre. At both luncheons, many retirees took the opportunity to renew their Retiree Association membership for 2016. It is not too late to renew your membership, if you have not already done so. Your renewal can be mailed to Anita Blair 1762 South Malden Road, R.R. #1 Essex, Ontario N8M 2X5. Make your cheque payable to the St. Clair College Retirees' Association.

Some of our retirees, their family and friends will be returning from the 2016 Winter Trip to the Riviera Mayan in Mexico. They will have lots of pictures and stories to share once they settle back home. We look forward to hearing all about their trip.

The Retirees' Association held a workshop at the Windsor Campus in November for retirees and College staff on TFS Accounts / Investing an Inheritance / Wills and Estates. This workshop was very informative and answered many questions from those in attendance. This workshop was offered at Thames on January 27 at Tru's Grillhouse Restaurant. Retiree activities resumed in January and include the Bridge Club, Trivia Tuesday/Dinner, and Thames retiree luncheon on the last Wednesday of every month. Be sure to watch your email for other upcoming events such as the Petrolia' Victoria Theatre and the Retirees' Annual General Meeting. Thank you to Margaret Goodman, Social Convenor for arranging the activities for you to enjoy.

The 50th Anniversary Celebration of Ontario Colleges will be in 2017. St. Clair College's planning has begun and a meeting took place in January. Representatives from your Retiree Executive are present at the meetings and will keep you informed through these newsletters.

Contact me or anyone on the Retiree Executive with any ideas you have for your Retiree Association. I look forward to seeing you at some of the events.

BULLYING IN THE WORKPLACE

On Wed. Jan. 27, 2016, about 200 people from quite a variety of community service agencies, and the community in general, attended a luncheon in the Skyline Room, at the St. Clair Centre for the Arts, to hear Andy Faas, a graduate of St. Clair College in the early 1970s, present the background to a new book he has published, entitled “The Bully’s Trap”.

When he was twenty-six, it was brought to his attention that some of the staff that reported to him felt they were being treated badly. It registered, and he began his struggle to deal with it. His very successful careers at Loblaw’s, and Shoppers, would indicate that he found a way to be a more human being in the workplace. He found it important to be able to find answers to several questions. All managers should ask their staff how they feel about their work, and the environment that they work in. He believed that many managers simply don’t know how their staff feel about their workplace and thus how to make it better. After carrying out this approach for many years, Andy began to recognize that most people want to work in a psychologically safe workplace, that included, the ability to be themselves, to feel safe, to experience minimum stress, and to feel engaged.

In summary, he got to the point where he believed that it is very important for people to be asked about their work environment, and then for something to be done that addresses significant issues. He also made us aware that this kind of openness can be risky, but has great payback.

About eleven years ago, Andy was diagnosed with leukaemia. He was told that he might have six more years to live. During the years of treatment, he made a promise to himself, that if he recovered, he would do what he could to find out how people felt about their workplace, what could be done to help them work to their full potential, and what could make the workplace better for all. One of the main issues that Andy discovered was that bullying in the workplace was not uncommon. He also found out that this has a very destructive influence on all levels of an individual’s life. Thus he felt the need to try and address this very negative issue.

Today, Andy introduced us to his new book that deals with bullying in the workplace. Several people, from the audience let us know that they personally experienced this kind of abuse, and its long term affects.

Andy brought many copies of his book to the luncheon for those who might be interested in reading it. By the end of the luncheon, all copies were gone. For any of you who are interested, you can download a free digital copy by visiting <andrewfaas.com>. (NB: Use your browser).

THAMES CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Thames Christmas Party was held on Wednesday, December 2, 2015 at the Countryview Golf Club in Chatham. This was a mild day for the kick-off of the Holiday Season. Forty-two people attended and enjoyed an excellent buffet luncheon. Eunice Robinson and Elizabeth Barr were thanked for arranging the door prizes and organizing another successful Christmas Party. People enjoyed their social time especially with presentations being made by Santa Jim and wife Eunice Robinson. We wish to thank Jay Ertel for setting up Tony Ellul's excellent powerpoint presentation which showcased the Retirees' social activities of 2015.

The retirees were invited to attend the Christmas Pageant and the Windsor St. Clair Retirees Christmas luncheon on December 12, 2015 at the St. Clair Centre of the Arts and the President's Christmas Brunch on December 22, 2015.

RETIREE ASSOCIATION CHRISTMAS PARTY 2016

This year's Retiree Association Christmas Party was held in the Dieppe Room on the main floor of the St. Clair Centre for the Arts on Saturday December 12/15. 100 retirees, spouses/partners and friends were treated to a delicious buffet dinner with turkey and all the trimmings.

Lunch was served at 1:00 PM followed by the distribution of numerous door prizes, most of which were provided by various groups from within the College. These included the Bookstore, Alumni Association, Student Government, Marketing/Liaison Office and President's Office, among others.

This portion of the afternoon was followed by the Music Theatre Performance and Entertainment Technology student production of A St. Clair Christmas.

It was a stunning production! For 2015 the students used a variety show format which included many rousing, humorous and soulful numbers while tracing the history of Christmas music through the decades. Hanukkah in Santa Monica and Baby's First Christmas, replete with cast members in diapers with suckers and rattles, were especially entertaining.

Christmas tunes pervaded vignettes of flapper music, the historic war-time Christmas truce between the British and Germans, the Great Depression and the Rock 'n Roll era, as well as folk music and a 60's anti-war protest. As always, stirring full chorus renditions of traditional songs, such as O Holy Night and This Christmastide brought down the house. Strong, acrobatic dance routines, choreography and energy were especially evident in this year's production along with professional costuming.

Many thanks to Jay Ertel for organizing this annual event. Kudos also to Santa Jim Martin and his elves Cynthia Bissonnette and Kathy Dupuis. Tony Ellul also provided his annual year-end high quality video review of Retiree Association events.

And a special thank you to Anita Blair, Jo An Dale and Marilyn Portt for managing the tickets for door prizes, membership dues collection and membership ID's.

It was a very successful group effort!

PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL CHRISTMAS STAFF APPRECIATION BRUNCH

President Patti France hosted her first Staff Appreciation Brunch in the Cafeteria on Tuesday, December 22, 2015. As in the past, retirees were invited and many responded, using the occasion to visit with other retirees and with current staff. Breaking somewhat with past practice, the brunch consisted of a complete turkey dinner, with dressing, mashed potatoes, gravy and cranberry sauce. Ms. France recognized the staff contributions in 2015 and awards were given for staff participation in the annual United Way campaign.

Retirees are grateful to the college for being included in this annual event as it provides an opportunity for fellowship and to get caught up with happenings around the college.

Winter Trip 2016

This year's trip, our thirteenth, was back to Sandos Playacar Beach Resort in the Riviera Maya, Mexico, now that Sunwing flies out of Windsor to Cancun. This was our third trip to that resort.

When we arrived at the airport two hours before the 4:15pm departure the Departure screen showed DELAYED beside our flight. Turns out that the plane had not even left Mexico. After a long wait at the Windsor airport we finally left, not to arrive in our hotel rooms until 3:30 in the morning. That and the four very humid days were the only negatives about the trip. Rain was forecast for the next day throughout the trip but it rained only once - conveniently at night.

The Sandos had been recently renovated, so the rooms were up-to-date with a good king sized bed or two queen beds and a large flat screen TV. The bathrooms had a vessel sink and a beautiful walk-in shower. I found that hotel designers still don't realize that two people dragging big suitcases and carry-ons for a week's stay need more than one luggage rack, three drawers and six hangers for all the stuff in the suitcases. Our rooms were centrally located near the pool, ocean, buffet restaurant and three of the specialty restaurants and the building had working elevators which were handy when all but one couple were on the fourth floor.

Shopping brought a range of prices depending on where you were shopping. The prices in Playa Del Carmen, a fifty minute walk from the hotel, were a reasonable $5.US for a kid's t-shirt but the hotel store and evening vendor prices were $15 and $18 US.

Last time at this resort we had our group picture taken by a large fountain. The fountain is now gone replaced by a new outdoor entertainment area where we had our happy hour every evening before dinner. The food was excellent in the buffet and the specialty restaurants, the grounds beautiful and the staff friendly. This still remains one of our better resorts, possibly our best.

THE STRESS OF OLD AGE

I feel like my body has gotten totally out of shape, so I got my doctor's permission to join a fitness club and started exercising. I decided to take an aeobics class for seniors.

I bent, twisted, gyrated, jumped up and down, and perspired for an hour.

But, by the time I got my leotards on, the class was over.

RETIREE PROFILE

Hanno Barten was born in the municipality of Groningen, the Netherlands, a city today of close to 200000 in the northern part of the country. His father was a teacher in a technical school, his mother a stay-at-home mom. His brother, who still lives in the home country, went on to become a design engineer specializing in radar.

Hanno lived in The Netherlands from 1935-1960. Even the most ignorant of armchair historians can see that these dates included the years during World War II. Hanno's home town was overrun by the Germans in 1940 and not liberated until 1946. Both his parents were abducted and taken away but not until the last few weeks of the war. During this time Hanno and his brother lived in an orphanage. Although still very young, Hanno remembers a lot of bombing, including the intense bombing of shipping lanes by the British.

His mother was returned first while his father was gone for five years. To make matters worse, both were labelled "collaborators" upon their return. It wasn't until 1995 that the government issued an apology.

Hanno, too, is very appreciative of the Canadian effort to liberate his country of birth. He saw Canadians both fight and die during the liberation effort in his hometown of Groningen.

Hanno served with his country's military as a mechanic from 1955-1957 during the Hungarian Revolution. He had completed high school and a 6 year apprenticeship as a licensed mechanic and was eminently employable; however, being known as the offspring of collaborators made life unbearable. So, he emigrated from his country of birth at age 25 and set out for Canada, landing in Ottawa in 1960, speaking "some" English.

Immigration Services helped him find a job as a mechanic and a boardinghouse where he met some memorable people with whom he still stays in touch. After one year he drove "south" to London where he worked briefly before landing a job in Sarnia with the Snyder Bros. Bill Snyder had fought in the war and helped liberate The Netherlands. Hanno worked there for nine years.

However, after a car accident, he was off work for a year during which time he went to school for a year at Western where he obtained a teaching certificate. In the mean time, he had also indirectly made the acquaintance of a fellow countryman by the name of Bill Geraedts from St. Clair College. Eventually, Bill and Charlie Jackson hired Hanno to help pioneer the Motive Power Technician Program in 1969.

Hanno remained at the College until his retirement in 1995. He has many fond memories of his time at the College, including his work on the clean air car, the alcohol car and the high mileage car which, incredibly, got 967 miles per gallon! Both initiatives were decades ahead of their time. He also remembers warmly working with a bright young technician by the name of Dan White.

Hanno's wife Joyce joined him in Canada from the Netherlands in 1964. Hanno and Joyce have two daughters, one a local massage therapist and the other a teacher at Vanier College in Montreal.

Although Joyce has finally "retired" after 25 years of volunteering at the College's greenhouses, Hanno still comes in weekly to work for the Retiree Association's Archives Committee.

We are all very thankful for Hanno's continued commitment to the well being of St. Clair College.

FOLKLORE PROJECT

The Retiree Association Folklore Project is intended to preserve interesting stories from the College's history in video format. The project is the joint brainchild of former President John Strasser and Bill Totten.

To date, half hour videos have been completed on the Q years, the Amphitheatre, the development of Local 138 and the Adult Retraining Program.

Video sessions have been lined up for the English

It is expected that many of these may be used in May 2017 when the College's 50th anniversary is celebrated. They will also be preserved as part of the College's archives.

ST. CLAIR COLLEGE RETIREES' ASSOCIATION WORKSHOP TFS ACCOUNTS / INVESTING AN INHERITANCE / WILLS AND ESTATES

On Wednesday, November 25/15 forty-five retirees and College staff attended the workshop in Windsor and on Wednesday, January 27/16 thirty attended in Chatham. The presenters from RBC Wealth Management on Estates were Susan Macdonald, Senior Trust Advisor, RBC Dominion Securities and Teresa Booth, Trust officer, RBC Dominion Securities, Southwestern Ontario and the Investment presenter was Karen Ewald, Investment Advisor, RBC Dominion Securities, Chatham. The same material was presented at each location.

Effective January 1/15 new probate filing rules took effect for Ontario Estates. Probate is a process that confirms executor authority to distribute assets of a deceased's estate. Where required, provincial government grant this authority by issuing a probate certificate known in Ontario as a "Certificate of Appointment of Estate Trustee With (or Without) a Will". The Ontario government charges a fee for the certificate based on the value of the deceased's estate. Effective January 1/15 executors who apply for a "Certificate of Appointment of Estate Trustee With (or Without) a Will" (i.e. Probate Certificate) are required to file an "Estate Information Return" form with the Ministry of Finance within 90 calendar days after the "Certificate of Appointment of Estate Trustee" is issued by the government. That is once the executor applies for and receives a "Certificate of Appointment of Estate Trustee", the executor must submit a detailed Estate Information Return within 90 calendar days to provide details of how the estate's value was determined. Failure to do so can result in a fine and/or imprisonment. It takes about four months these days to receive the certificate to enable the executor to proceed with the estate. The 90 days to be able to complete the Estate Information Return goes by quickly. The required detailed information is acquired by engaging an appraiser to evaluate the assets including personal effects. The submitted return requires that a cheque be attached. Gifting can be done before death as long as the person is competent. RBC Wealth Management can do the finances (Power of Attorney) and Executor Services.

Karen Ewald's presentation on Investing focussed on getting the right advice for the right price. She explained CRM2 the new industry wide regulations which improve how the financial industry report and discloses fees for investors. By mid 2017, all investment dealers, mutual fund dealers, banks and investment counselling firms will be required to provide more detail about account fees and performance. The features of their Advisor System are – receive personalized Professional advice, no commissions on trades but rather pay a standard fee which goes through the accounts each quarter, tax deductible for non-registered accounts and an annual tax package each February. Participants received a dividend portfolio with the explanation that dividends don't change with the stock price. With respect to TFS's at RBC Dominion Securities they can hold dividend paying stock. This will shelter all of the income earned through dividends and the account gains. GIC's held at an investment dealer and Mutual Funds were also covered.

We found this workshop very informative and the many questions were answered for those in attendance.
