From September 14 IPEC email: As a follow-up to our meeting on post-secondary engagement, the Chiefs of Ontario would like to request your assistance with distributing a survey for Indigenous Student Services at Ontario colleges. First Nations would like to gain insight into the supports and services that institutions offer for Indigenous students. The information gathered in the survey will inform recommendations to the federal government on a new way forward for First Nation post-secondary education in Ontario.

The goals of the survey are to (1) identify successful services and supports, (2) understand how we can build on or expand successful programs, (3) identify areas where improvement is needed, and (4) understand how post-secondary engagement can support Indigenous Student Services at Ontario post-secondary institutions.

If you could please share the following survey link with your contacts at each institution that would be greatly appreciated.

STUDENT EVENTS

Métis vs Mixed with Donna Grayer

Event Page: <https://fb.me/e/7jahp5uA9> (May 27, 2021 at 2 PM EST)

Description: In partnership with St. Clair Student Representative Council, Indigenous Student Services proudly presents Donna Grayer to share her story of her own personal journey as a Métis woman. A simple conversation about the distinct Métis Nation, and how Donna came to the understanding of that distinction, and the process of getting to the understanding that she did. The family that was met, and history made along the way. The stories are where the understanding of the distinction of the Métis within the Constitution, and within the history of Canada, become clear. The personal stories show the struggles, as well as the successes of the Métis Nation, which claims the person telling the story, as well as the choice to be claimed by the Nation. There are many books, opinions, false claims, while the stories of those that carry the history often go untold or ignored. This is a chance to travel a past journey of trying to understand the nation from which I am from. Please bring a cup of tea, and join Donna as she shows you how she came to the conclusion that she did, by sharing historical documents, as well as timelines.

St. Clair College virtual KAIROS Blanket Exercise (vKBE), for Staff

Event Page: <https://fb.me/e/XjdJfdH4> (August 26, 2021 at 1 PM EST)

Description: In partnership with St. Clair Student Representative Council, Indigenous Student Services proudly presents a virtual KAIROS Blanket Exercise (vKBE) for Staff and Faculty of St. Clair College.

The KAIROS Blanket Exercise (KBE) is an experiential teaching tool based on participatory popular education methodology that explores the historic and contemporary relationship between Indigenous and non-Indigenous peoples in the land we now know as Canada. Created in 1997 by the Aboriginal Rights Coalition (ARC), a precursor to KAIROS, the KBE was initially meant to introduce Canadians to the major themes and findings of the Royal Commission on Aboriginal Peoples (RCAP). The Coalition brought together Elders and knowledge Keepers, Indigenous educators, and allies who wanted to make sure that RCAP and its recommendations were not shelved and forgotten. The KBE is built on the foundation of these long standing, collaborative initiatives and relationships between Indigenous and non-Indigenous peoples. It aims to raise awareness of continuing injustices and the impacts of colonization, and to promote further learning. For over two decades, ARC and now KAIROS have guided the ongoing development of the KBE with the leadership of Elders and Indigenous facilitators across this land.

The vKBE is a 2.5 to 3-hour live-streamed, ZOOM based, interactive presentation that is based on the KBE and built around a PowerPoint presentation with embedded images and videos. It is delivered by an Indigenous-led team of 3 facilitators. Participants interact by reading scrolls, using the chat feature, and changing their virtual backgrounds in response to cues in the script. Participant safety is key and the vKBE includes features aimed at monitoring and supporting participants during the experience. The vKBE begins with an hour-long participatory activity that is always followed by a virtual talking circle.

Understanding Awaadiziwin and its role in achieving Bimaadiziwin

Event Page: <https://fb.me/e/1QhKEQOG9> (October 28, 2021 at 4 PM EST)

Description: In partnership with the St. Clair Student Representative Council (SRC), Thames Students Inc. (TSI), and St. Clair College Wellness Committee, Indigenous Student Services proudly presents Understanding Awaadiziwin (knowledge/culture) and its role in achieving Bimaadiziwin (life).

Story-telling plant medicine knowledge and its role in the management of the Chronic Disease Epidemic and associated morbidities. We discuss disease pathology and why culture is the only appropriate intervention. We will acknowledge various cultural components as unique humans gifts necessary for life: Plant medicines, fasting, cold-immersion, heat-immersion, exercise/movement, diet/nutrition.

We will focus, of course on the (provided) plant medicines and understanding its mechanism. With us all at a solid understanding of this knowledge (awaadiziwin) and how it is required to achieve life itself (bimaadiziwin) the conversation then, necessarily focuses on the unique human ability to engage in reciprocal relationships with medicines themselves, and our roles and responsibilities to Aki, the land.

Joe is Ojibway from Wiikwemkoong, married with one daughter. Joe is the Founder & Director of Creators Garden, an Indigenous outdoor, and now fully online, education based business, focused on plant identification, beyond-sustainable harvesting, and teaching every one of their linguistic, historical, cultural, edible, ecological and medicinal significance through experiences. Joe's programming is easily adaptable to make appropriate and successfully delivered to a variety of organizations. Including over 100 first nations communities, 20 Universities and 18 colleges and dozens of various institutions throughout Canada and the United States and beyond. Joe has learned from hundreds of traditional knowledge holders and uniquely blend and reinforce it with and array of western sciences.
